PG Department of English and Research Center organized an alumnae lecture on 11th January 2018 during the Association hour. Miss Sheeba Thattil, Assistant Professor, Department of English welcomed the gathering. Dr. Nisha Francis Alapatt, Assistant Professor, Department of English introduced the resource person of the day Swathi K. S, a specially abled (Divyangana-vision impaired) alumna of our institution. She had won the best paper award in the paper presentation competition conducted at Vimala College. The lecture was all about her own life experiences during the course of her research on the Japanese writer Haruki Murakami. Hard work and perseverance can do wonders in everyone's lives, she reiterated. She advised the students to find their area of interest for the research. She said that if one is truly passionate about something that would never be a burden to them. She preferred simple diction with profound thought. A good researcher should focus on the novelty and clarity of their ideas. She suggested the students to nurture the habit of reading and to develop a research aptitude in their academics. The talk was an inspiring and thought provoking experience. Dr. O J Joycee, Head of the Department of English appreciated her for her dedication and hard work.
