MoU10	Survey on Socio Economic Study for Kalpathy & Lakshmi Narayana Agraharam in Palakkad	District Town Planning Department, Palakkad	2019

‘Socio Economic Impact Study of Kalpathy and Lakshmi Narayana Agrahaaram in Palakkad’ is a research study undertaken by the Art and Heritage Commission and Department of Town and Country Planning, Govt. of Kerala in collaboration with Department of Social Work, Vimala College (Autonomous), Thrissur for the Department of Town and Country Planning Department, Govt. of Kerala and has been done under the monitoring and guidance of the District Town Planning Office, Palakkad. The study intended to understand the socio economic and cultural conditions of inhabitants of Kalpathy and Lakshmi Narayana agraharams.

STUDY AREA

The Kalpathy and Lakshmi Narayana Agrahaaram situated on the banks of River Kalpathy about two kilometres away from the Palakkad Town comprised of the study area. The area is renowned for Lakshmi Narayana Swamy Temple and Sri Viswalakshi Sametha Sri Viswanatha Swamy temple and the world famous chariot festival and the major inhabitants of the area are the Tamil Brahmins.

AIM & OBJECTIVES OF THE STUDY

➤ AIM

To study the Socio Economic impacts of Kalpathy and Lakshmi Narayana Agraharams in Palakkad

➤ OBJECTIVES

1. To study the social conditions of the residents of Agrahaaram.
2. To study the economic conditions of the residents of Agrahaaram.
3. To understand the cultural aspects of the residents of Agrahaaram.

Assessment Period (2016 - 2021)

VIMALA COLLEGE (AUTONOMOUS), THRISSUR

4. To study the present condition of their houses, their plans related to the maintenance and usage.
5. To understand the residents opinion towards retention of Agrahaarams
6. To gather the issues related to maintenance and renovation.

Conclusion

The Kalpathy and Lakshmi Narayanapuram Agrahaarams have undergone and is undergoing many changes in the recent past and present. The changes in life style of people all over the world have also affected the social and traditional system of the Kalpathy villages. Even though the village has been declared as heritage area, the values and traditions of the village are slowly vanishing. The diminishing supremacy of Brahmins in the caste system and in the temple jobs also affected the community.

The changes in life style and values have taken away the new generation from the village and they left the place in search of better job and living conditions. At present the residents of Kalpathy and Lakshmi Narayana Agrahaaram are gradually changing their way of life and it affects the traditional life, architectural values and building structure. The old age population in the village is the only link to hold the traditional values and beliefs. The socio- economic condition of the present community is unable to uplift and upgrade the status of the villages. The new generation is mainly depending on private jobs and those who were in government services are now retired and living on their pensions. Many of them turned to business and other jobs to earn a living. Steps shall be taken by the concerned authorities to ease the building permission procedures for carrying out the constructions in the heritage area. Aspirations of the residents of the village to the changing lifestyle shall be addressed which eventually may help in bringing back the youth population which presently follow the trends of migration. There should be policy level decisions must be taken to provide incentives to the inhabitants of the area for maintaining the heritage character. The government may take initiatives to promote the heritage tourism in the area which will help the socio economic status of heritage area.

To retain the tradition in tangible and intangible assets they need the support of other agencies. They themselves feel incapable to continue with the heritage status. The Kalpathy River, once the life line of the people of Kalpathy, is now abandoned by state due to unauthorised use by the outsiders. For drinking water facilities they depend on water connections and other water resources. They suggest implementing suitable measures to get back the river and do follow the ritualistic practices.

Objectives

- Experiential learning
- Develop first-hand knowledge and on site skills

Report of the Activity

Students of Interior Architecture and Design were assigned three house renovation projects of Dev Associates for internship. The students used their theoretical knowledge and applied them during the tenure of their internship. They did site visits, client interviews, prospective plan designs, estimation of cost and interior design consultancy for the three projects under them. The students were capable for developing skills in material selection, creative abilities, floor plan estimations etc. they were guided by the MD of the firm and site supervisors. Every day the students had to submit the site details in terms of plans, work of action and progress of work. Based on their submissions discussion sessions were held to solve problems and rectify mistakes with logical reasoning. The discussions were beneficial to the students in developing their critical thinking and creativity. Based on their performance marks were allotted for their attendance and work. The three projects were successfully completed with positive client feedbacks. A documentary on each project was made.
