

Lend a Hand to Learn Online

An Initiative to Assure 100% Student Inclusivity in the Times of Online Education

The transformation that the educational scenario underwent in the recent times has been drastic. There has arisen an immediate need to migrate to digital platforms of teaching-learning to cope with the times. While educational institutions are gearing up for this significant change, the question of student inclusivity remains a significant concern. The College is only one step away from assuring that all our students have access to internet learning resources.

You could also contribute towards helping a child learn online, in making sure that no one is left out in this revolutionary shift towards digital learning. These are the ways in which you could lend a hand:

- Are you upgrading to a new and better gadget? Your pre-owned smartphone, tablet or a laptop could be the next classroom for a child who can not afford a new one.
- The carrier charges for internet aren't affordable to all children. Can you spare a bit of money to buy a student a data plan?
- Would you like to make any other financial contribution towards bettering access to digital resources for economically struggling students?

Let's lend a hand to assure that no child is sidelined in this revolutionary transformation to online learning.
