ENG3 E01 Shakespeare Studies (5 credits)

Aim of the Course

This course will explore the works of Shakespeare, in terms of their social and dramatic contexts, while at the same time locating the discourses on the works as well as the author as significant cultural/political phenomena, with the aid of contemporary theoretical and critical work.

Core modules

Module 1. Introduction to Shakespeare

Elizabethan theatre – theatrical companies – publishing of works – prompt book- Quartos and Folios – Bad and good quartos – First Folio 1623- Apocrypha – Shakespearean sonnet – Comedies, Histories, Tragedies and Tragi-comedies. Shakespeare’s craftsmanship.

Module 2. A - Plays and Poems (1591-1600)

This module is to familiarize the students with the plays and poems Shakespeare wrote in the sixteenth century, in which the dominant genres were comedies and histories, with tragedy an emergent presence towards the end. The module will cover the first half of Shakespeare’s career in chronological order, from 1591 to 1600.

Texts:

1. Sonnets (18, 24, 29, 116& 138)
2. The Merchant of Venice
3. Henry IV part 1

- B Plays and Poems (1601-1613)

This module contains plays and poems Shakespeare wrote in the seventeenth century, in which the dominant genres were tragedies and tragicomedies. The module will cover the second half of Shakespeare's career in chronological order, from 1601 to 1613.

Plays: Hamlet, Othello, King Lear

Module 3. Textual Studies in Shakespeare

This module investigates the production of the text in the theatre and in print, explores controversies surrounding the interpretation of this material, and introduces students to the techniques of editing. Topics include: the relationship between a modern edition of a play and the earliest printed texts; the nature of the printing process that first made the plays available to readers of books; the characteristics of Shakespeare's dramatic composition; the treatment of the text in the theatre (including censorship, revision and adaptation); and Shakespeare as a collaborator.

Plays discussed will include: Hamlet, King Lear, Romeo and Juliet, Measure for Measure.

Module 5. Shakespeare in Performance

This module approaches Shakespeare through the culture of the early modern playhouses where dramatists wrote with particular companies, performance spaces and audiences in mind. The aim of the module is to find out how the social, cultural, spatial, professional and technological make-up of venues such as the Globe and Blackfriars shaped early modern drama by Shakespeare and others. The module will also consider trends of acting and directing Shakespeare from the Restoration to the present day, and contributions of individual actors and directors from the eighteenth century onwards like Colley Cibber, David Garrick, Henry Irving and Ellen Terry, Laurence Olivier, Peter Brook, John Barton and Sam Mendes..

Plays discussed will include: Richard III, Antony and Cleopatra, and A Midsummer Night's Dream

Module 6. Shakespeare and Theatre Practice

This module will provide students information about three different systematic approaches to performing the language of Shakespeare: 1. the verse and text work of John Barton, Peter Hall, and Giles Block; 2. the legacy of Stanislavski in the Shakespearean work of 20th/21st century practitioners in Europe and the United States;

The module also considers the adaptation and appropriation of Shakespeare's plays from 1660 to the present day, paying particular attention to how changes and developments in theatre practice, aesthetic tastes, social concerns, political events, the heritage industry, and commercial markets have shaped the history of Shakespeare's 'afterlife'. The module looks at how the plays were received and reinterpreted in light of different artistic, intellectual, and commercial movements from the late seventeenth to early twenty-first centuries. Distinction between 'adaptations', 'appropriations', 'translations', and 'versions'.

Module 7. History of Shakespeare Criticism

This module will combine a historical overview of the main developments in Shakespeare criticism from the 1590s to the present with detailed investigation of key texts, covering: the canonization of Shakespeare; character criticism; biographical criticism; imagery and symbolist criticism; critical study of the plays as created artifacts; the relationship between criticism and performance; historicist criticism; and new critical approaches.

Selected essays:

1. G. Wilson Knight : 'On the principle of Shakespeare Interpretation', 'Hamlet Reconsidered'
2. Elaine Showalter : 'Representing Ophelia: Women, Madness, and the Responsibilities of Feminist Criticism'.
3. Paul Brown : 'This thing of darkness I acknowledge mine: The Tempest and the Discourse of Colonialism,"

ENG4E15 Introduction to Children's Literature (4 Credits)

Introduction:

Children's literature has been included as an academic subject in Western universities since approximately three decades. As this marginalized genre now gets introduced into Indian university syllabi it is apt to frame a course that initiates postgraduate students to the boundaries of children's literature. This proposed paper explores the relationship between creative writing and critical awareness of children's literature by facilitating deliberations on most of the major sub-genres of children's literature.

Objectives:

This course aims to introduce the students to the serious academic study of children's literature. The course will explore and interrogate children's literature enabling the students to critically pose answers to whether children's literature is innately conservative or it breaks conventional boundaries of categorizations. This paper aims to explore how writing for children redirects the way in which genres, texts, and new techniques interact creatively with childhood and youth culture. Such a reading mainly requires a comparative approach to the study of children's literature.

Course frame work:

The paper introduces major sub-genres of children's literature such as Poetry for children, Picture Books, Fairy / Folk Tales, Drama, and Fiction. Apart from these creative works, there is also a session on introducing children's literature criticism. Texts are chosen to fit in the parameters of comparative studies like transference of cultures, translation and trans-national concerns, inter textuality studies, image studies, comparative genre studies, and so on. . The boundaries of children's literature have also included creative and critical writings of our nation, placing them at par with other international practices. The paper introduces students to current theories and approaches to children's literature studies at the postgraduate level by mapping the major boundaries of the area. This study, finally, aims to compare concepts of childhood in different cultures ranging from the Utopian universal republic of childhood to a concept of childhood determined by globalization and commercial materialism. This course ideally aims at a comparative approach to children's literature transcending linguistic and cultural borders.
